

Contributors to “The World of Transnational Asian Americans”

- I. Present Position
- II. Field(s) of Research

Eiichiro Azuma

- I. Assistant Professor, Department of History, University of Pennsylvania
- II. Modern Japanese History, Immigration, U.S.-Japan Relations, History of Asians in the U.S.

Hiroko Furuya

- I. Research Fellow, Japan Society for the Promotion of Sciences
- II. Contemporary Vietnamese Politics

Hideki Harajiri

- I. Professor, Faculty of Humanities Social Sciences, Shizuoka University
- II. Cultural Anthropology, Educational Anthropology

Izumi Hirobe

- I. Associate Professor, Graduate School of Letters, Hokkaido University
- II. American Studies

Yoshiyuki Kido

- I. Associate Professor, Graduate School of Social Sciences, Hitotsubashi University
- II. U.S. Social History, Race and Ethnicity, Asian Americans

Robert Lee

- I. Associate Professor, Department of American Civilization, Brown University
- II. Asian American History, Transnational History

Mari Sekiguchi

- I. Adjunct Instructor, Faculty of International Relations, Asia University
- II. Modern South Asian History

Miya Shichinohe-Suga

- I. Assistant Professor, Humanities and Social Sciences, Tokyo Gakugei University
- II. U.S. History, Immigrant and Ethnic Groups, Immigration Policy, Multiculturalism

Eui-Young Yu

- I. Director, Center for Korean-American and Korean Studies / Professor, Department of Sociology, California State University, Los Angeles.

II. Demography, Statistics, Asian-Americans

Henry Yu

- I. Associate Professor, Department of History, UCLA; Associate Professor, Department of History, University of British Columbia
- II. American Intellectual History, 20th Century U.S., Asian American History, Race & Migration, Social Science and Social Theory in U.S. & Europe

Daizaburo Yui

- I. Professor, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, University of Tokyo
- II. Post-war World History, U.S. Modern History